

BUCKINGHAMSHIRE ARCHAEOLOGICAL SOCIETY

Are you interested in archaeology or local history? Do you value the ancient landscape, natural history, and historic buildings of Buckinghamshire? Perhaps you are concerned for the defence and protection of the county's historic landscape, and hope to see some mitigation of the effects of housing developments and rail and road schemes such as HS2 or the proposed Oxford – Cambridge Expressway. Buckinghamshire Archaeological Society (BAS) could be the place for you. We are based in the County Museum in Aylesbury, and organise talks, and run outings to places of historic interest. There is an Active Archaeology Group in which members can get hands-on experience of archaeological work. The Society has a comprehensive library, and encourages research. BAS could be the place for you.
